Resources for Leading a Digital Stories Discussion

Digital stories are short videos that are personal, and from the heart. As a result, they are very impactful, because the story and the person are inseparable. Both are remembered long afterwards.

Compassionate Ottawa invites you to view and discuss our Faces of Help stories. You just might want to tell a story of your own!

A storyteller was asked by an author, “because you have so many wonderful experiences, and such wisdom, would you write a book?” After a pause, the storyteller said “no, because it wouldn’t have me in it.”

You will find the stories and a Leader’s Guide on the website at www.compassionateottawa.ca under Resources.
